PARTY ABOVE COUNTRY!

"While I favor passing the Tariff bill, sooner than that this Congress should not pass the Federal Elections bill I would prefer to see every manufacturing establishment in Massachusetts burned to ashes and the people of that State required to labor in callings in which they could not make more than 50 cents a day and be required to live on codfish."—Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts.

AN IMPORTANT PROVISION.

It cannot be known too early or too generally that the amendments to the Election law require:

1st. That the registrars in the various counties must be appointed by the County Commissioners by the first Monday in September, instead of the first Monday in the month proceeding the election.

2nd. Registration books shall close on the second Saturday preceding the election.

As a new registration is required by virtue of the provision of the amendment to section 2,676 of Code, it is necessary, in order to give the required notice thereof, that such registration shall be ordered by the 24th. of August.
In case where the new registration has not been ordered, it will be necessary to have it done before the 24th. of August.

The attention of the Board of Commissioners and the County Chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee is invited to the above.

THE REVOLT AGAINST BROWER.

The Republican revolt against Congressman Brower in the Fifth district is greater than the Democrats throughout the State generally suppose. It is so deep-seated that the Winston Republican is out in a strong article against him and calling upon self-respecting Republicans not to support him. It charges him with betraying his party by voting for the Mills bill; being willing to turn traitor to his party in its hour of need, as evidenced by the interviews published indicating his willingness to be a candidate for Speaker of the House; and by raising shool in the district by reason of his control of federal appointments.

Concluding its arraignment of Brower, the Republican says:

We have letters, and have seen leading Republicans from nearly every county in the district since the convention, who declare they will not only not support Brower, but some of whom say they will canvass against him. With these lights before us, we are satisfied he cannot carry a county in the district, and feel it our duty to frankly say so.
What is more, that if he and his friends persist in maintaining his candidacy, he deserves to be defeated at the polls by the people, as he will be.

The Twin-City Daily is much improved of late, and we are glad to see that it is taking a special telegraphic service, which adds greatly to its interest.

A STRONG PROTEST AGAINST THE FORCE BILL.

The CHRONICLE has always had a good opinion of Mr. POWDERLY's ability and wisdom. He has recently expressed himself very strongly and vigorously against the Force bill. We make the following extract from his weighty utterance:

Why should a special law be enacted to regulate the election of Congressmen?
Whom do they represent that they should insist on manipulating the election machinery in their own interests? A Congressman does not represent the United States in the House of Representatives—he represents a number of citizens comprising a certain territory in a certain State, and the people of that State should have the right to scrutinize and regulate the election of the man or men who will represent them in Congress.

And again: Section 9 of this law is in direct violation of the contract by which the several States are bound to the United States, and is a most unwarrantable interference in the legislation of the sisterhood of States. If the citizens of the United States value their independence they will promptly resist such tampering with their right to make state, territorial and municipal laws to suit themselves. If the government of the United States shall have the right to supervise the election of its own officers, and take that right out of the hands of the people, who are supposed to be represented, of what use is it to support the government of the separate States and territories? Where does Congress get the authority to annul a state, territorial or municipal law?

The Force bill provides that if there are more ballots in the box than properly belong there, the box shall be shaken up and a blindfolded supervisor shall draw out every excessive ballot. Mr.
POWDERLY thus refers to their scheme and says that it is "a sort of Louisiana lottery scheme, by which a second ballot may be avoided—a game of blind-man's bluff substituted for an honest election. A more dishonest piece of legislation does not exist than that. It does not record the will of the majority, it does not aim at justice, and it certainly does not express the sense of those who voted in earnest."

Concluding, Mr. POWDERLY says: That law passed the House of Representatives without the advice or consent of the people of the United States. It was hastily passed and without due consideration. It should be reconsidered and published to the world, so that those who are to be governed by it may know what it is in time to express their opinion on it before its passage into law.
The next best thing for the people to do is to send in their protests to the Senate against its passage by that body. Our members should act at once and ask the Senators from the various States to express their sentiments on this measure when it comes up for consideration.
The name of every Congressman who voted for the law should be published to the world, and the citizens who are opposed to such high-handed work should scratch them on next election day.

These wise and manly words ought to have weight with thousands of honest mechanics in the North who prize freedom and peace. And we believe they will hear and endorse Mr. POWDERLY's protest.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat says that crops of all sorts out West this year will be below last year's yield, nearly all of which is due to drought. We are sorry for our Western farmers, but rejoice that the prospects in North Carolina are better than for many years.

"A dead letter in the black belt and an expensive sham or an unqualified evil elsewhere." That is what MURAT HALSTEAD wisely says the Lodge Force Bill would be if enacted into law.

We were in error in stating that the Congressional Convention of the Fifth District will be held at Edenton. It will be held in Elizabeth City on the 12th of August.

He wrote it b. harrison.

(St. Louis Globe Democrat.)

Our usually well-informed Washington correspondent tells of a movement to make Mr. CHAUNCEY I. FILLEY, of this city, the successor of COL. CLARKSON, as First Assistant Postmaster General. If the President is an assenting party to the scheme then we have in the White House the personification of Christian forgiveness, as the following facts will show: A few weeks ago Mr. FILLEY, in writing a letter to be distributed in circular form among his friends, spelled the name of BENJAMIN HARRISON with a small b and a small h. When the printer remonstrated and asked if he should not use capitals, Mr. FILLEY replied interro-gatively, Would you spell jackass with a big J? Now, if this is not exactly a true bill, the fault is with Mr. FILLEY, because it was related in one of the city papers recently from manuscript furnished by Mr. FILLEY as one of those autobiographic gems with which he is in the habit of occasionally adorning the columns of our cotemporaries.

CREDITABLE TO DURHAM AND TO THE EDITORS.

[Concord Times.]

We notice that the good people of Durham in their magnificent banquet to the Press Association had no wine or spirits of any kind. We are greatly pleased at this exceptionally appropriate conduct, and hope it will be a precedent that will be followed by all banquets, not only to the Press Association but to every other body. We are glad of the fact that the Association returned thanks by a rising vote. Where wine and punch are abundant the vote of thanks is usually taken viva voce. We pause to ask: What other body of men in North Carolina would have returned thanks for the absence of wine?
